To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Lynne Hobbs

There are 14 pre-schools on the RSSC estates. Although many of these schools have been running for some time now, the teachers were truly lacking some sort of basic training. The company had budgeted for trying to upgrade the staff and that is how I came into contact with Lynne.

After E-mailing her our needs, Lynne was willing to travel to Swaziland to present the Educare course which we in turn named "Back to Basics". Lynne was able to very quickly access the situation and placed more emphasis on certain areas. As the course was held in the afternoons, Lynne visited the schools in the morning where she freely gave constructive advice and practical solutions to the teachers.

The teachers were not only given valuable tools to take back to their schools, but now had an understanding of why certain things were expected of them when dealing with the little ones. The course was well structured covering all the basics, as we required. Teachers felt motivated and inspired to take their schools to a new level.

Lynne is an outgoing, kind, approachable presenter. We will definitely be inviting her back in the near future to share more of her wealth of knowledge and experience with us!
